

A _____ is created when lights shines through drops of water. The raindrops bend the light separating the colours.

